"HINEWAI, a fitting name for the versatile Ramparts 2500CL ASD tug built by Cheoy Lee Shipyards in Hong Kong for the port of Timaru in New Zealand. Meaning Water Girl in Maori, she is the third ASD tug delivered by Redwise from Hong Kong to New Zealand. The Tai Timu and Tai Pari, both of the RStar2400W design of the Canadian based naval architects Robert Allan Ltd, were delivered under own power to the port of Tauranga in 2015 and like the HINEWAI built by Cheoy Lee shipyards. While the 2015 deliveries went via Noumea, this time a more "scenic" routing was elected through the Sulu Sea in the Philippines, the Banda Sea in Eastern Indonesia, the Arafura Sea to Torres Strait and onwards inside of the Great Barrier reef to Townsville for bunkers and fresh provisions. Obviously the scenery was not the driving factor, but chosen to avoid the weather in the Pacific by taking a more sheltered route. It proved to be a welcome extra for Redwise's, Master and crew from The Netherlands and Indonesia. Again, one of many delivery voyages that is typical for the global nature of our industry with four continents involved in one project: an Asian principal and shipbuilder, North American designers and engine builders, European ship deliverers and thruster makers all cooperating for an Owner and operator based in Oceania".
