These vessels are built for various fishing applications including bottom trawling, purse seining, long lining, mining, squid fishing and research, and many vessels are custom built to satisfy the customer's every need. Vessels are designed with a large hold capacity, yet still maintain spacious engine room and accommodation areas. Many of the vessels are built to include more than one application to allow for products to be processed at sea. The material is also so versatile that a range of sizes are available from 33 feet to 100 feet based on existing moulds.

This vessel platform has been ordered as TUNA POLING with BRINE FREEZING, BOTTOM TRAWLING or PURSE SEINER configurations. All vessels are custom designed and built around user requirements.
